

Seniors Will Present Play Here Tonight

Cast of English Drama Is Composed Entirely of Senior Students.

Mr. Main's Last Production

College Students Will Be Admitted With Activity Cards; General Admission Is Forty Cents.

"Are you suffering acutely from war blues? Or is it that life's routine has become unbearably monotonous? Whatever your ailment or mood, I should like to recommend highly to you a good prescription—a grand evening of entertainment and relaxation sponsored by the Senior class in their presentation of the drama, "Outward Bound" by Sutton Vane."

Thus read the letter of Harvey Davis, president of the senior class, sent to members of the faculty and other interested persons.

The play concerns a group of people who find themselves on board a steamer bound for an unknown destination. The peculiar thing about all of these passengers is that no one seems to know where they are going. The boat on which these people find themselves has a crew consisting of only one person, the ship's steward. During the course of the passage, the voyagers discover they are bound for both Heaven and Hell.

Mr. R. L. Main's play production class has completed the construction of a nautical set to add to the interest of the play. This is the last play to be directed by Mr. Main before leaving for California in June.

Students of the College will be admitted on their activity cards. (See "Free Tickets" on front page.) Reserved seats will cost an additional ten cents. Other persons will pay forty cents, plus ten cents for reserved seats.

Horace Mann Graduates Present One-Act Plays

Three one-act plays, one of which was written by a student in the College, were presented in the College Auditorium, Wednesday night, by members of the Senior Class of Horace Mann high school. The plays were presented in place of the customary three-act Senior play.

The first play on the evening's program was "Quiet Please," a farce by Howard Buerman, which was followed by "Ghost Story," a play by Booth Tarkington.

The third play, entitled "The Fighting Hero," was written by Robert Flowers, a junior in the College and a member of the Play Production class directed by Mr. Main. The play was written and produced as an individual play production project for the quarter. Casting, direction, and actual production of the play were handled by Miss Charlene Barnes, a student speech and dramatics instructor in Horace Mann high school.

Members of the class who performed in the three plays were: Verlin Tomkins, Jim Birkenholz, Della Benefield, Evonne Adams, Cullen Blumenthal, Jo Ann Hayes, Mary Gates, Giles Smith, Eleanor Dawson, Ernestine Dawson, John Kinman, Harold Hall, Madison Fannon, Robert Burks, Gaylord Jensen, Lloyd Willis, Sarah Jensen, Harold Jones, Stephen Lance, and Tommy Surplus.

Make-up assistants were Virginia Gray and Betty June Harazin.

Mr. John Rudin of the speech department gave a commencement address to the high school graduating class at Hale, Missouri, on Thursday evening, May 14. He used as his subject "People Are Like Porcupines."

Mr. Surrey Is Busy
A letter from Mr. Sterling Surrey to President Lamkin says, "I have neglected my correspondence with many Maryville friends, and I would appreciate your extending my regards to them. For perhaps say I am now very, very busy." Mr. Surrey is on leave of absence working in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, toward the Doctor's degree.

NOTE: The following news story coming from the Greek War Relief Association has peculiar interest to members of the College community in that the parents and other relatives of one of the College students, Franklin (Bibbs) were in Greece when that country fell into enemy hands. The young man has not heard from his relatives for a long period of time.

"Here is some of the grandest news we've ever been able to report to you!" says a letter from the Greek War Relief Association.

THE "SICILIA," WHICH SAILED FROM NEW YORK FOR PIRAEUS ON MARCH 27TH, REACHED GREECE SAFELY WITH HER PRECIOUS CARGO OF FOODSTUFF AND SUPPLIES ON APRIL 16TH.

Official word of the "Sicilia's" arrival was flashed to headquarters of the Greek War Relief Association on Saturday, April 18.

Twenty-one days were required for the trip—or the exact time estimated by the "Sicilia's" gallant skipper, Captain Gustave Persson, the night before he and his brave crew set sail for Greece.

Let none of us forget Captain Persson's simple parting statement. He said: "We, of course, do not know exactly how long it will be before we return. Perhaps we will never return; we may all lose our lives. But at least we will lose them in a good cause."

Chamber of Commerce Employs Edward Godsey

Mr. Godsey's wife, the former Miss Dixon Campbell, is a former student of the College. They have one son.

Major E. V. Condon Sends Lithograph

Picture Is Exact Copy of Painting in Chapel, Camp Blanding.

From Major Edward V. Condon of the 128th Field Artillery, Camp Blanding, Florida, a former student of the College, there comes to President Uel W. Lamkin a lithograph entitled "Defense of Man," a reproduction of an oil painting which is on exhibition in the 128th Field Artillery Chapel at Camp Blanding. The lithograph has been handed to Miss DeLuce of the Fine Arts department to be put on display at the College.

With the lithograph came a discussion of the painting. The oil painting was created through the cooperation of Chaplain (Major) Roy Reynolds and Private Benn Lichtenhal, known in professional life as the artist, Benn Lewis. Just after the young artist was inducted into the army he became acquainted with the chaplain. Chaplain Reynolds, struck by the ability of the artist suggested that Private Lewis do a large oil painting (34 x 36 inches) for the new chapel. The agreement was made, the materials were provided by the chaplain, and in November, 1941, the painting was completed.

The painting, "Defense of Man," combines religious and military subjects. It portrays a United States soldier kneeling in prayer on the battlefield, surrounded by smoke, fire, barbed wire, and field gun, as the visionary figure of Christ watches over him. It signifies that the kneeling soldier is the protector of his country and fellow man, while Christ is the soldier's protector.

Four soldiers served as models for the painting. Private Samuel Peshkin of New York City was used as the model for the face of Christ. The hands of Christ were modeled by Private John Benkas of Lackawanna, New York. The kneeling soldier is a composite of two distinct types of American youth, posed by Private Thomas Hulen of Sturgeon, Missouri, and Private John Sherlock of Summit, Missouri. An interesting aspect of the painting was the accidental use of models who were of Catholic, Jewish, and Protestant faiths.

Students Sing at Regular Assembly

Mr. DeJarnette Injects Plenty of Fun Into Group Singing.

Community singing, led by Mr. DeJarnette, head of the Conservatory of Music of the College, with the assistance of the High School Choir of the Church, a string ensemble from the high school will play the prelude. Marceline Wiley will preside at the meeting.

After the national anthem, which was sung with dignity, Mr. DeJarnette injected some fun into the program when he sang the solo part in "Deep in the Heart of Texas," while the audience responded with clapping. Mr. DeJarnette was emphatic in his telling the audience not to ruin his solo by getting the clapping in the wrong places.

Miss Marian Kerr of the Music faculty played the piano for two numbers, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," and "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms." For the other numbers, the dance band furnished the accompaniment. Margery Drifmiller sang "White Cliffs of Dover" and "Tonight We Love," before the audience was asked to sing them.

Before "Tonight We Love, Mr. DeJarnette said he was asking Miss Drifmiller to take part with him in a little play. "Now you be Margery, and I'll be Mary," he said and the play proceeded.

Mary: "George proposed to me last night."

Margery: "Doesn't he do it beautifully?"

The songs used in addition to the ones already named were: "Anchors Aweigh," the United States Marine song, and the "Alma Mater."

Assembly closed early to permit the seniors and the sophomores to have class meetings.

Methodist Young People Invite College Students

The young people of the Methodist Church are going to present the following program Sunday Morning at the Sunday School at 9:30 o'clock. There will be two talks, both by College students. A string ensemble from the high school will play the prelude. Marceline Wiley will preside at the meeting.

The program is entirely under the direction of the young people and the purpose of the service is to acquaint college and high school young people with the church activities which favor youth. All college young people are urged to attend.

Baccalaureate Service Is Sunday, May 24—College Auditorium.

Commencement Is May 26

President and Mrs. Lamkin Receive Seniors at College Residence Friday, May 22.

The 1942 commencement season of the College opens Friday evening, May 15, at 8:15 o'clock, when the Senior Class will present its play in the College Auditorium. The play chosen is "Outward Bound," by Sutton Vane.

On Wednesday morning, May 20, at 10:00 o'clock, as the regular assembly of the week, the Senior Class will have the traditional Class Day exercises. At this time a special program will be given, the class gift and the class tree will be presented, and the ritual of the passing on of the Senior Cane to the president of the Junior Class will be observed in accordance with a custom established almost thirty years ago.

On Friday afternoon from 4:30 until 6:00 o'clock the members of the graduating class and the husbands and wives of those Seniors who are married will be guests of President and Mrs. Uel W. Lamkin at the College Residence. This reception to the Senior Class is given each year by Mr. and Mrs. Lamkin to all the students who have completed their work for their degrees at any time during the year, from the close of the fall term to the close of the summer term. This year the group to be received will include also those who will finish their work at the end of the session, which will close September 2.

The next event of commencement will be the Baccalaureate services on Sunday morning, May 24, at 11:00 o'clock, in the College Auditorium. At this time the address to the class will be given by President J. C. Miller of Christian College, Columbia, former dean of the faculty of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College. The ministers of the town have been invited to assist in the service. Music will be furnished by the students of the Conservatory of Music, under the direction of Mr. Deane W. Lamkin, head of the Conservatory. The congregation will take part in the singing of the hymns. At this service the members of the Senior Class will march into the Auditorium in caps and gowns.

The informal social event of commencement is the Senior Breakfast, which will be held at the cafeteria at Residence Hall on Monday morning, May 25, at 9:00 o'clock. At this time the program will be light and of interest to the Seniors themselves. Always there is a spirit of fun at this last gathering, but a note of sadness, too, as it is the last "get-together." At this time President Lamkin is expected to speak to the class, laughing with them at the amusing things that have happened in the history of the class, but seriously reminding them that they must go out from the College cognizant of the responsibilities that rest upon them as the members of the class of 1942.

The final event of the 1942 commencement season will be the Commencement proper, which will be held Tuesday morning, May 26, at 10:00 o'clock in the College Auditorium. The address will be delivered by Mr. Deane W. Malott, chancellor of the University of Kansas, at Lawrence. Miss Ruth Nelson of the faculty of the Conservatory of Music will play a violin number. Mr. J. W. Jones, dean of the faculty of the College, will present the candidates for degrees and Mr. Uel W. Lamkin, president of the College, will confer the degrees. Announcement of special honors and awards will be made. Commencement will officially end when the graduating class, followed by the faculty, will march in procession from the Auditorium, while the audience stands.

Mrs. J. C. White of Cameron, Missouri, visited her daughter, Betty White, on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Mercy Ship, "Sicilia," Reaches Greece Safely

The announcement of the "Sicilia's" arrival in Greece, was the first word that had been received since her departure—but in this case, no news was good news. For the conditions of safe conduct granted by the governments concerned, called for strict observance of pre-arranged plans; with no official statements of her position at any time.

Mr. Skouras, president of the Association, in announcing the safe passage of the "Sicilia," said: "We thank God that this shipment of food has safely reached Greece. It will help to save the brave, starving people of that country whose plight is today so desperate."

"It isn't much . . . only a few thousand tons of flour for a country that normally produced 900,000 tons of grain annually. But it is a beginning."

"The people of Greece are starving. The Greek War Relief Association has already sent foodstuff and supplies to the value of more than five million dollars to Greece. Even now we have three ships plying between Istanbul and Piraeus, carrying whatever food is available for purchase in Turkey and Egypt. But we must send more—much more—if Greece is not to become a graveyard."

"We hope to be able to send a shipment from America regularly every two weeks."

Hallaren Arrives Also
Coincident with the announcement of the arrival of the "Sicilia" came word that the Swedish ship "Hallaren," sent from Sweden with supplies and food for Greece, has also arrived safely. The "Hallaren" left Sweden on March 11th with a shipment of sugar and medical supplies, a gift of the Swedish Red Cross; picked up thousands of barrels of sardines in Lisbon, a gift of the Greek Government; and then stopped at a port in Italy for wheat, a gift to the Greek people from His Holiness, Pope Pius XI.

The "Hallaren" is expected to go into service between Istanbul and Piraeus.

"By December 15, 1941, the last of the approximately 800 Greek refugees who had made their way to Anatolia from nearby Greek and Italian Islands following the defeat of Greece in the spring of 1

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to inculcate a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

WAR IS NOT ALL BAD

Just as every wind must blow some good, so is there some good already discernable in this war. True, one must look long and hard for something good in a world nearly covered by the worst kind of war; but it is there. For example, there is the scarcity of rubber that is making more and more people walk again. Many persons, after recovering from the first rude shock, are benefiting from a walk to and from work, or to and from school. Then again, other people are looking to books and music for entertainment—sources of pleasure long overlooked by persons in search of fun.

In short, people are returning to the so called simple things in life. There are few things more elemental than walking; it is easy to sit and read; music requires no outlay of money if one has a radio. So, in a world seemingly gone mad, there is an element of good.

Quotable Quotes

"Every high school, junior college and college should provide selected courses designated as National Service courses and should require every student to select a series of such courses that would prepare him to meet the nation's need. Rigid standards should be maintained and provision should be made for refresher courses. Much of what would be needed for such a program already is available in our schools. After the war camps, equipment and technically trained men could be added to such a program, and such a Civilian National Service program might be the answer to federal aid. The values of such a program to the nation would be millions of children and youth moving steadily through the schools, trained and ready on call to meet any national emergency our part in the post-war world may require. If our schools rise to the challenge, democracy never again will be branded as inefficient nor will the children of our children know the humiliation of those tragic words—"too little and too late." Dr. Frank W. Hart, professor of education at the University of California, believes armed might will be necessary to prevent a recurrence of the present world war, and armies must have a trained civilian population behind them."

"In the college of tomorrow, there will be a minimum of lecturing and quizzing of students, a maximum of discussion and quizzing of teachers. It is as easy to get through the eye of a needle as to acquire an education by merely listening to lectures."—Dr. William P. Tolley, president of Allegheny college.

"The cultivation of the mind alone assures neither strong character nor worthy citizenship, for knowledge is not always virtue. Neither, on the other hand, can high ideals alone accomplish high ends. To be productive, ideals need the strength and direction of disciplined minds."—Ralph P. Bridgman, dean of students at Brooklyn college.

"One of the paradoxes of war is that while it is, considered by itself, the acme of foolishness, it causes men to search for wisdom and brings thoughtful people closer to ultimate realities. Civilized men and civilized nations are thinking more deeply about and showing a deeper concern for the meaning and values of their lives and their ways of life."—School and Community

From the Dean

Since as Thomas Huxley once said, "The sense of uselessness is the severest shock which the human system can sustain," it becomes a supreme obligation of well disciplined people not to create in others this "sense of uselessness." Rather an effort should be made to develop a sense of usefulness.

With summer approaching it is well to consider the pros and cons of sun-tans. The sun is bad for dry skin, but it is good for oily skin; it makes wrinkles, but it helps out blackheads. So it is a matter of knowing how to use the sun for your benefit that counts.

The drying effect of the sun is just what oily-type skin needs, and the skin peppered with blackheads and blemishes is usually of the oily type. Sunning stimulates the circulation and activity of the tiny sweat glands in the skin, and perspiration is one of the only authentic deep pore cleansers.

The most important thing to remember in tanning is that it must be done gradually—a little at a time. There is great individual difference in adaptability to sun, and while some people can stay out in the sun all day and not be badly burned, others are burned in a short time whenever they are exposed to the sun's rays. If the skin is light, dry, or freckled it is best to avoid the bright sun, rather than to be burned. A sun-burn is the same as any other type of first or second degree burn, and may prove serious as well as painful. The best treatment for first degree sunburn is calamine lotion, while more serious burns should have the care of a physician. There are a number of sun-tan preparations on the market, most of them oily in nature. These are an aid to individuals with dry skin, and are purported to give an "even tan." Many of them are extremely expensive, and pure olive oil is just as effective, though it is not as pleasantly scented as some of the highly advertised products.

Just as important as gradual exposure to the sun is the avoidance of exertion in the hottest part of the day after eating a large meal, or drinking cold drinks.

Common-sense should govern the sunworshippers routine, but there are great health benefits to be gained from the greatest source of the widely publicized Vitamin D.

What They Think

Men of the State Teachers College at Cape Girardeau seem to think that the idea of turning in toothpaste tubes when buying toothpaste should be extended into the trousers field. They say that if they were to turn in an old pair of trousers when buying new ones, the reclaimed wool would make up for the cuffs. An idea, anyhow.

Men Go Their Way

For five whole days the men at City College of Los Angeles, California, live life in the raw. They call it "Men's Week." The men pitch tents on the quadrangles. Throwing off the suaveness of the "city slicker" in the tent city, they have contests for longest beards, loudest pajama tops, and reddest beards.

Quad Highlights

With only one more issue of the "Northwest Missourian" before vacation begins, the Quad reporter is already thinking how lonesome he will be without his column. But despite the vacation, the Quad will go on as usual and many of the men will stay for Summer Session.

The Quad men usually have some type of week-end prank to play on an unsuspecting person. Last fall it was Ralph Strange with his savage ramblings that kept innocent people in a dither. Then it was "Swede" Johnson and Ralph Phillips who took over the reins, and now it is a large group of fellows who are in charge. The latest victim was L. B. Sloan who slept deeply but with his shoes on. The "culprits" closed in and administered a sizzling hot foot to Sloan who required a long time to awaken. But even Sloan admits that he received a warm reception, upon awaking, and to this day he is hunting the tormentors.

Ed Inten and John Rudolph are genuinely disappointed to learn that Dr. Klempel is leaving. After laboring through a social science

The Stroller

The Stroller may be at a loss for news sometimes, but Sugar Rationing furnished at least one good story this week. Here 'tis:

Bob Gregory was signing up for his sugar ration book. The Stroller slipped up behind him just in time to hear him answer the question as to how much sugar he had on hand. "One hundred twenty-five pounds," said Bob.

"What! You mean you have 125 pounds of sugar on hand!"

"That's what my girl weighs," said Bob.

What the Stroller wants to know is: Did Bob lose all the coupons in his book? He wonders, too, just which girl it was.

All of the sororities and fraternities seem to be trying to outdo one another with their spring formals. So far the Tri Sig's and the Alpha Sig's really gave gala affairs. The Stroller is expecting even better from the Tau's and the Phi Sig's.

Sigma Phi gave a grand picnic last Monday night. In fact they even rented the President's "Rumpus Room" as the place for their party. Not bad.

While the Stroller was collecting news he was told that Martha Mae Holmes had recently attended a wedding. Said Miss Holmes, "There's no joke in that. I didn't get anywhere!" Her associates see something funny in the remark.

The Stroller is feeling very conceited this week for he attended two banquets, won three awards, and was elected to one office. He really feels equal in importance to "Baby Dumping."

The Stroller has decided that picnics are definitely in the wind for the present and the future. My! My! Some of them do start so early and end so late, don't they? Especially the ones the Stroller attends.

With all the army lads back on furlough, there is really quite an epidemic of weddings. Something about the army that makes romance even in the shyest lads and lasses!

A number of the alumni are here on furlough at present. Gale Donahue, Bill Tebow, Kenneth Tebow, Charles Appleby, and Mahlon Hamilton are only a few of the army men now on furlough. (This is not paid advertising.)

One of the former football captains, Larry Loos, will soon return to Maryville to marry a recent grad, Bernice Carr. Captain Loos changed to Lieut. Loos. Would you call that demoted, or promoted?

Have you noticed the new bus which is the proud possession of Bob Hufstader and his band? More power to you boys, and good luck on all your tours.

The Stroller is a little surprised at the athletes of the old institution. They seem to like publicity for a number of them are regular callers at the Missouriian office to read all their press notices in the newspapers of rival M. I. A. A. brothers.

Speaking of M. I. A. A., the track meet Saturday was a little disappointing to several on the campus, particularly to the participants. S. T. C. really did make quite a lot of points, however, in view of the fact that she had only one first.

The boys on the way to Springfield started a plan of charging a dime every time a member of the track team used swear words. The Stroller wonders how they are planning to spend all that money they made. Maybe they're going to give a banquet. One athlete told the Stroller that he paid thirty-nine cents. Must have been nine-tenths of a swear word or something. Maybe he ran out of money.

The Stroller was informed recently that Maryville had the "dingiest" weather, whatever kind that is. Evidently some one doesn't like rain. Really though Maryville is kinda like California. It never rains here either. Much.

What's this about Dorothea Henry being investigated by the F. B. I. or somebody? The office girls all seem afraid to tell. Miss Henry vowed she'd tell the world all about Lela Maul Copeland learning to ride a bicycle if Mrs. Copeland divulged any secrets.

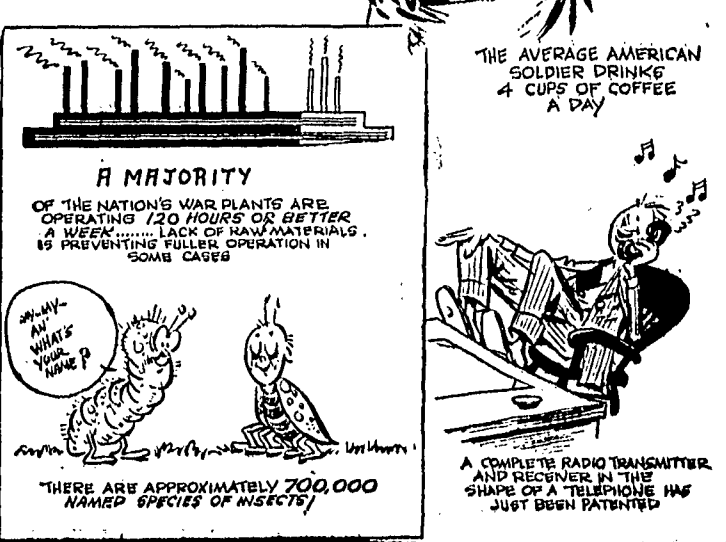

Only one more week to go and the Stroller will pass out for the summer. Probably some will be very happy to hear a little silence from these quarters, but the Stroller is really going to miss the old column this summer. However, you and the Stroller can always look forward to next fall when he'll be sure to return even if he has to write by remote control from some army camp. Oh, well, I don't suppose the army would have him any way since he's kinda short for a soldier. Unless they're looking for one to crawl under tanks and stuff. (What's stuff?)

course, both Rudolph and Inten were looking forward to next year, when they could watch others sweat it out. They do admit that, in spite of themselves, they have learned a great deal about social science.

Jack Padilla went home over the week-end and returned with big stories about the Iowa corn. Jack was telling Joe Lauchukis how big the ears were getting, but Joe was not to be fooled. He remembered the time when Ralph Strange told of ground hogs whistling various tunes in order to pass the time away. Ralph and Jack should be valuable football players next fall. With their ability to tell tall tales, they can probably get most of the opposing players to go home.

Landlady Should Use Sugar Stamps of Those Eating at Her House

If you eat at a boarding house regularly and wonder what to do with your rationing book here is the ruling, clarified by the sugar board:

Persons who eat twelve or more meals per week at a boarding house or restaurant are required to leave their books with the proprietor. The proprietor can not use the stamps to purchase extra sugar, but must keep the books and before the owner of the book leaves go to elsewhere must tear out the correct number of stamps in accordance with the period of time the individual has eaten at that place. The stamps must then be accounted for to the sugar board.

In other words: the proprietor of the boarding house is allotted a certain quota of sugar based on the number of boarders and to allow that proprietor to purchase extra sugar for the purpose of the rationing. If a person eats at a boarding house regularly for a month (or two rationing periods) after the rationing goes into effect, and then leaves that place for another boarding house, the first landlady is required to tear out two ration stamps out of the book and account for them to the sugar board.

NYA in Missouri Opens State Safety Contest

Donald Nelson, War production Board chairman, says competitions speed up war efforts. In line with this suggestion, G. Oscar Robinson, NYA state administrator, announced a safety contest opening Monday, May 4. It will be inaugurated at every major National Youth Administration project in Missouri.

At the present time the NYA war production training program in Missouri is preparing 4,117 young people for jobs in war industries and occupations essential to the war effort.

"The 200,000,000 man-days lost through accidents last year would have built 20,000 medium bombers and 30 battleships," Robinson said. "No preventable accidents should be permitted to slow production. Since practically all NYA-trained youth will go into war jobs, it is essential they become aware of the importance of accident prevention and safe practices before they go into private industry."

The state youth administrator believes that anything the NYA can do to develop safe-minded workers will reduce the number of later accidents in industry and thereby contribute to war production efforts.

NYA war production training projects in Kansas City, St. Louis, St. Joseph, Louisiana, Moberly, Maryville, Bonne Terre, Poplar Bluff, Hannibal, Fulton, Cape Girardeau, Jefferson City, Joplin and Springfield will participate in the eight-week contest. The winning award will be for the best safety record on the basis of accident prevention. Experts from private industries will be asked to cooperate with the NYA in conducting the contest.

The complete records of the NYA in Missouri will be forwarded to Washington, D. C. to be judged with other state winners for the national award.

College Students Seek Lost Gaseous Nitrogen

AMES, IOWA—(ACP)—On the trail of a half billion dollars, or more! No this is not a tale of a high-pressure fiction detective but just part of the routine of two chemical engineering graduate students at Iowa State college, F. E. Campbell and Burdette Jones.

Dr. O. R. Sweeney, head of the department, put Campbell and Jones on the trail to find out what happened to the fixed nitrogen present in ordinary coal. Sweeney knew there was not much in each ton—probably around 25 or 30 pounds—but in the yearly United States consumption of 400 million or more tons this would amount to about five-and-a-half million tons. As nitrogen, actually as sodium nitrate, for example, that would be about 27 million tons, worth about $700,000,000.

Research studies showed only .00009336 pounds of fixed nitrogen came off per pound of coal, or for the nation's annual consumption, a mere trifle of some 1,340 tons. The rest of it apparently was broken down to gaseous nitrogen which is much too common to be of interest, since it constitutes about 80 percent of all air.

This immense loss, Dr. Sweeney said, indicates a fertile field for study in an effort to recover at least a part of this fixed nitrogen for fertilizer or industrial use.

Wayne University Fits Speech to War Program

DETROIT, MICH. — (ACP) — The Wayne university speech department has established a community service bureau to operate on three "fronts" in serving civilian and military morale.

Since the day war began, the work of re-directing speech department presentations to the public to serve wartime instead of peacetime needs has been in progress. The result has been the dropping of intercollegiate competition and the building up of three major phases of activity to form the bureau's program: (1) the speakers' bureau, (2) the readers' bureau, and (3) the mobile theater.

The speakers' bureau maintains a roster of qualified students, alumni and faculty members, who are prepared to speak on various phases of the war, including possibilities of contributing to military and civilian efforts.

The readers' bureau, long an agency for community entertainment, has added many patriotic selections, both poetry and prose, to its repertoire of readings.

The mobile theater presents one-act plays and informative sketches, giving emphasis to entertainment for service men and preparedness information for civilians.

All three phases of activity are available, without charge except for transportation, to organizations of the Detroit area.

More than 1,500 University of Michigan students are receiving military training as a part of their college work.

Iowa State college spring quarter registration is 5,211, a drop of 2 1/2 per cent from the 1941 spring quarter.

Texas Christian Teaches Southwestern Literature

FORT WORTH, TEXAS—(ACP)—The flavor of the heritage and culture of the Southwest characterizes many of the classes at Texas Christian university.

"The average student was learning all about the English miracle plays and nothing about the Mexican border plays; everything about Roman gods and Beowulf and nothing about Pecos Bill and Paul Bunyan's excursion to the Southwest," explains Dr. Rebecca Smith, English department head, who has been a leader in development of the "Southwest Approach."

One of the first Southwest courses—"Literature of the Southwest"—was inaugurated in 1933. Students delve into the home life of the early Southwest, food, marriage customs, religious beliefs, superstitions, pottery, blanket weaving, geography and architecture.

T C U offered one of the first university courses in the United States on "The History of Mexico." But the Southwest influence extends well beyond formal courses. Cowboy songs are the hobby of Dr. Newton Gaines, professor of physics. Motion pictures in color of Indian life are the specialty of Dr. W. M. Winton, professor of biology and geology. Paintings of Texas life—particularly oil field scenes—form a great part of the work of Prof. Sam P. Ziegler, professor of art. And a "Southwest Room" in T C U's library is the pride and joy of the school.

Brains Will Not Be Man's Downfall Says Professor

CAMBRIDGE, MASS.—(ACP)—Ignoring war's turmoil, Harvard university's professor of geology, Dr. Kirtley F. Mather, launches the cheerful prediction that the human species probably has a 500,000-year future and that the earth's resources are bountiful enough to keep mankind going for millions of years.

No need to worry that man's specialization in brains will be his downfall, as the dinosaurs' overspecialized bony armor plate is supposed to have helped along their extinction, Dr. Mather declares.

Man needs to act with more intelligence, and to increase his ability to see in advance the remote consequences of contemplated action, the geologist concludes.

If homo sapiens is an average species of the earth's creatures in longevity, the human race that now rules the earth is still young with a mere 50,000 years to its credit. Our golden age, if any, is in the future, Dr. Mather foresees. After a half-million years more of existence, our type of mankind may either exit via a blind alley or develop into a descendant better adjusted to environment than we are.

Yale Man Would Harness Energy in Sun's Rays

NEW HAVEN, CONN.—(ACP)—Prof. C. C. Furnas of Yale university believes man can tap the sun for inexhaustible power simply by doing "efficiently what nature has been doing inefficiently for 1,000,000,000 years."

All that man must do to harness solar energy, he says, is to reverse the photo-chemical process by which plants convert sunlight, water and carbon dioxide into the substances of life.

By obtaining such a freely bestowed supply of power, Furnas said, mankind might eliminate many of the causes of international strife and bring peace to the world.

Furnas says current sources of energy will be insufficient generations hence.

Examining various suggested substitutes for petroleum, coal and water power, he discarded wind, tidal wave and atomic energy schemes as inadequate or impracticable.

In direct utilization of solar radiation, enough of which falls on a factory roof "to operate all the machinery in the place," Furnas found some grounds for optimism.

Of the several methods proposed for harnessing such power, he said the "best idea" is utilization of photo-chemical reactions.

Harry Burr to Instruct Some Army Air Corps

Harry Burr, for three years superintendent of the Parnell school who was inducted into the army service May 6, is here on a short furlough to close up his school affairs at Parnell.

He will leave Tuesday for the induction center at Leavenworth and there be assigned to some Army Air Corps where he will be an instructor either in mathematics or physical education. Mr. Burr has taken graduate work at the University of Missouri and Columbia University on a Master's degree. He has applied for officers' training school but needs three months basic training before being assigned to such training.

A number of Wayne university classes in retailing are being conducted inside Detroit stores this semester in a project to make university vocational training of the most immediate value possible.

A service honor roll compiled by the campus newspaper lists 349 Texas Christian university students in the armed forces of the United States, Canada and England.

"The Religion of Greece in Pre-historic Times," a volume by Dr. Axel W. Persson, noted Swedish archaeologist, has just been published by the University of California Press.

Bearcats Win Third Place in Annual M. I. A. A. Track Meet

Cape Captures Its Eighth Consecutive MIAA Track Title

Springfield Takes Second Place over Bearcats by Scoring 65 Points.

Elmer Barton Is Injured

Maryville Track Men Account for 37 1/2 Points in Annual Meet; Schottel Wins Discus.

For the past two years the Bearcats have captured second place in the M. I. A. A. track and field meet, having been nosed out of first place each time by the seemingly undefeatable Cape Girardeau Indians. At the state meet this season held last Saturday at Springfield, the Bearcats dropped to third place in the conference, losing their second place berth to the Springfield Bears.

Cape Girardeau won the meet making this the eighth consecutive time they have captured the title. Led by the 17 1/2 points of Ovid Hunter who was high point man they totaled 107 points winning first in twelve of sixteen events.

Ivan Schottel won the discus throw with a distance of 135' 5". Chester Parks placed second in the 440 yard run, David Murphy came in second in the 880, and Gordon Overstreet placed second in the 220 low hurdles. The Bearcat relay teams composed of Fletcher, Murphy, Overstreet, and Davis in the 880 and Fletcher, Murphy, Seyforth, and Parks in the mile placed second in both of these events.

Overstreet came in third in the 100 yard dash, Russell tied for fourth place in the high jump. Tritsch was fifth in the 120 high hurdles, and Seyforth was fifth in the 220 yard dash.

The Bearcats won a total of 37 1/2 points. Springfield in second place scored 65 points, and the fourth place Rolla Miners had 26 1/2.

Lee Reid of Cape was the only man in the meet to set a new record when he ran the 880 in 1:58.9. The old record of 1:59.8 was set by Wayne Taylor, former Bearcat track man, in 1940.

Elmer Barton, valuable Bearcat dash man, received a leg injury in the preliminaries and was unable to enter any further events of the day. This loss meant a decrease in the number of points to the Bearcat's credit, as Barton would have accounted for points in the 100 and 200, and was a fast member of the relay teams.

Random Shots

The Conference meet at Springfield wound up another track season for the Bearcats. Although they finished in third place, they have the record of winning every other meet they entered during the past season.

If the Bearcats had had a stroke of good luck last Saturday it might have done a great deal for their total points in the State Meet. As it was Barton was injured in the preliminaries and the 100 yard dash and the 220 did not provide the points Bearcats fans had hoped for. The relay teams would have finished in better time also if Barton had been carrying the baton part of the time.

And Cape Girardeau continues to wear the conference crown. They started winning state meets back in 1935 and from all appearances have really made a habit of it, for none of the other M. I. A. A. teams have been able to catch up with them since.

Co-captain Herb Mulkey of the Indians graduates this year after four years of valuable service on the Cape Squad. He has been an outstanding basketball player also.

M. I. A. A. teams this year aren't what they used to be if setting records is any indication. Only one record was broken this year, and that was a 1940 record set by Taylor.

Schottel and Barton are the only senior members of the track squad, so Coach Stalcup should have a good team to work with next track season.

The archbids this week go to Mr. "Lefty" Davis for working out a "toughener" program for boys going in to the service. He got the idea when he saw a similar program in a newsreel and worked out a complete training field for the College.

New Program Will Toughen College Men

Mr. E. A. Davis Outlines Plan to Prepare Men for Military Duty.

Open to All College Men

Feature of Training Activities Will Be Eighty-Yard Field Composed of Barriers.

E. A. Davis, director of men's athletics, has introduced a "toughener" program designed primarily for those men in the College who have signed up for the Navy V-1 plan. Other men who are enrolled in the College and are interested in taking part in this program may do so.

The training field will be 80 yards long, and will be composed of various types of barriers. This training will stress agility, coordination, balance, and physical fitness in general.

After fifteen minutes of calisthenics the trainees will run the 80 yard field under competition, sometimes in pairs or in relay teams, and will be timed by the stop watch. Other methods may be introduced in order to keep the competition high.

The first requirement in the 80 yard field is weaving through posts, and from there they must hand vault over a barrier 3 feet 6 inches high. The next is to jump a ditch which is 1 foot 6 inches deep and 7 feet wide. The fourth is a 3 foot 6 inch tubing through which they must crawl, and from there they scale an 8 foot wall. Three 2 foot 6 inch hurdles which are placed 5 yards apart are next in line, followed by telephone poles 2 feet 6 inches above the ground on which they must walk or run. The last obstacle on the field is an inclined ladder 5 feet 6 inches above the ground. They enter at the end of the ladder and climb from one side to the other using their arms only.

This toughener program will probably begin at the beginning of the Summer quarter. It was arranged and will be directed by Mr. Davis.

SOFTBALL

All those who are interested in playing intra-mural softball should report to the gymnasium at 4:00 o'clock every afternoon.

E. A. Davis.

Moral: Never kick a cow—she may be your Uncle Albert.
—The Gabbler

Mr. E. A. "Lefty" Davis, athletic director of the College, who recently announced a "toughening program" for the men of the College.

Eighty-five per cent of the 422 new full-time students who were examined upon entrance at Wayne university this semester have been given "Class A" ratings in physical exams recently completed.

High intelligence and moral levels may derive from application of knowledge scientists now hold of vitamins, in opinion of Dr. Roger J. Williams, University of Texas chemist.

Cape Girardeau also won the tennis tournament and the Rolla Miners took the golf title.
